Credit cards, Auto and Mortgage loans

Amicus Curia believes, with few exceptions, if you can't afford it, YOU DON'T NEED IT! Like drugs, credit can become an addiction that destroys lives and families. But here are some of the few lenders willing to extend credit to debtors after bankruptcy and help you rebuild your credit.

Review the lists of mortgage brokers and car dealerships we have found helpful.

Bankruptcy Lenders Friendly Credit Cards

The following is a list of credit card companies that offer cards to consumers after bankruptcy. The list contains both secured and unsecured credit cards. This list is in no way exhaustive, but should be a good starting point for rebuilding credit!

Secured

First National Bank of Marin,
1.888.338.8406

Orchard Bank/Household Bank,
1.800.477.6000

First PREMIER Bank,
1.800.987.5521

Cross Country Bank Secured Visa,
1.800.252.1159

Unsecured

Orchard Bank/
Household Bank,
1.800.477.6000

In addition, there are a number of credit card search companies on-line that can help find credit cards to suit your financial situation. Most of these services cost money, but usually their fees are refunded if they cannot find you a credit card.

There are also a number of "stored value" credit cards that are similar to secured cards, except they do not require you to put any money into a bank account right away. You deposit money on the card and use the card up to the limit of your "deposit" into the account. You can find most of these by searching the internet. Most of these types of cards have applications that can be completed on-line.
